

Andrei Mungiu

European Commission, DG MOVE, Deputy Head of Unit
Maritime Safety

Andrei Mungiu works for the European Commission on EU environmental policies since 2012, and on transport policies since 2017.

He worked on aviation, in international, ICAO coordination, environmental and safety domains until 2025, when he took over the responsibility of Deputy Head of Unit on Maritime Safety. His work focuses on the development and implementation of the European Industrial Maritime Strategy, relation with EMSA, social issues and the implementation of the Maritime Safety Package

He has extensive experience in the private sector in management of software products in Romania, China, US and Belgium. He holds an engineering master degree from the Polytechnics University of Bucharest, Romania.